Finding your way

Find everything you need on campus using the UQ Maps app. Use the indoor and outdoor maps or try wayfinding to navigate directly to your next class, meal or study spot. Use live information to find parking spaces or see how busy the library is or follow the well-lit paths to travel safely at night. Download UQ Maps

What else is on?

You might also be interested in attending the Faculty of Health and Behavioural Sciences \(HaBS\) Orientation on Tuesday 13 February!! This session will provide you with an overview including where the School of Human Movement and Nutrition Sciences fits into the Faculty and UQ overall. It will be a great opportunity to meet some like-minded students from throughout Health and Behavioural Sciences and understand how the faculty can support you in your journey.
